Colonel A. M. S. Magrath
Collector
Civil and Military Station

Sir,

I am returning herewith letter No. 450/89 dated the 9th February 1889 from the Assistant to the Resident in Mysore, together with its accompaniments, received under Cover of your Canara Order No. 183 of the 15th idem, & beg to state that, as directed this morning visited the Locality Referred to by the Deputy Commr. of the Bangalore District in his Letter No. and date as per margin & find that Boundary Stone

No. 144 dt. 31st Jany: 1889 -

№ 24 stands at about 85 feet beyond what would appear to be at that point the proper limits of the Station, and that its being so placed affects in some small measure survey № 39 and also № 38; the latter however, is a long narrow slip of "karab" or waste land, which though lying within the boundary line from stone 24 to 23 does not belong to the Station.

2. I beg to add that the Boundary Stone above referred to evidently stands on the spot where it was originally sited at the time of the demarcation, and on exactly the opposite side of the road to the granite Column indicating the boundary of the Civil and Military Station Municipality × № 24

3 The Removal of Boundary Stone № 24 the only one that needs be interfered with so as to bring in line with Stones 23 and 25 would, I consider be unobjectionable

and would not in the least affect the Station Revenues.

I beg to be.

Description of the Boundaries of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, as amended by Dewan's Notification Camp No. 1195, dated the 22nd September 1888.

The boundary line of the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore will be assumed, for purpose of description, to start from the angle formed by the northern and eastern Revenue Survey boundary lines of the kayamgutta village lands of Dodkunte. This point, marked on the ground by boundary stone No. I, and lettered R on Revenue Survey Sheet 2, is the extreme north-eastern angle of the boundary limits now fixed for the station. It is situated by the side of the Banasavadi Road, and on the centre of the ridge which divides the catchment basins of Lingarajpura and Narasampalyam Tanks.

II. From this starting point the northern station boundary hugs for some distance the Banasavadi Road until it comes to the rocky hill known as "Machilgutte," round the southern base of which it sweeps, then following westward and coinciding with Revenue Survey boundary between the villages Dodkunte and Lingarajpura. It thus runs along the watershed and nearly parallel to the line of Railway until it crosses the Kachakalli Road at a point a short distance from and due north of the Native Cemetery of St. John's Hill. This point is marked on the ground by boundary stone No. II, and is lettered A on Revenue Survey Sheets 2 and 1.

III. Thence the station boundary continues westward along the village boundary line until it reaches the north-western angle of the Dodkunte lands, which point is marked on the ground by boundary stone No. III.

IV. At stone No. III, the line turns sharply and running south by west for some distance still follows and coincides with the village boundary of Dodkunte, until it meets the hedge of the large village known as "The Tanneries." This point is marked on the ground by boundary stone No. IV, and is lettered B on Revenue Survey Sheet I.

V. From point B, boundary stone No. IV, the station boundary follows the irregular outline of "The Tanneries," and of the "Masjid," immediately north of that village Survey block No. 671 on Revenue Survey Sheet I, until it meets, to the west of the Tanneries, the northern boundary line of the inam village of Byadarhalli. This point is marked on the ground by boundary stone No. V, and is lettered C on Revenue Survey Sheet I.

VI. A little to the north of the Mosque, and although belonging to the station, outside the general station limits as described in last para, is Revenue Survey block No. 672. This small detached patch of land is used as the municipal filth depot, and is therefore considered as part of the Civil and Military Station. It is triangular in shape and its boundaries are marked on the ground by small stones at the angles, those stones being specially lettered M. L.

VII. From point C boundary stone No. V, the station boundary follows the westerly course of the north village boundary of Byadarhalli until the angle formed by the northern and western village boundaries is reached, this angle being marked by boundary stone No. VI.

VIII. From this point the line of the boundary of the Civil and Military Station follows in zigzag the western boundaries of the Byadarhalli fields until it falls into St. John's Hill Cross Road, Point D on Revenue Survey Sheet No. I, where boundary stone No. VII is fixed. Thence it passes down St. John's Hill Cross Road just outside the south-western side drain until it reaches the eastern corner of Field No. 668, where boundary stone No. VIII is fixed.

IX. Leaving St. John's Hill Cross Road at this point the station boundary runs south-west along the north-western boundary of Survey Nos. 667 and 68, and at the south-western corner of the latter number 68, boundary stone No. IX is fixed.

X. From boundary stone IX the station boundary runs south-west almost in a straight line just outside the south-east drain of Miller's Road and the western side of Survey Nos. 474, 473, 464 and 455 till the south-western extremity of No. 455 is reached where boundary stone No. X is planted.

XI. From boundary stone No. X the station boundary meeting the north side of the High Ground runs west along the northern boundary of Survey No. 459 up to the north western corner of that number and thence it passes south along Avenue Road and the western boundary of Survey Nos. 458, 129, 128, 127, till at the south western extremity of No. 127 it meets the new boundary stone No. XI on Revenue Survey Sheet No. I.

XII. From new boundary stone No. XI the line runs east by south along the southern boundary of Survey No. 127 and thence turns to the south alongside the Nullah which is the eastern boundary of Survey No. 126, thence turning north through Survey No. 122 and east through the middle of Survey No. 124 it turns south east, skirting the Government Press buildings to the southern extremity of Survey No. 40, where new boundary stone No. XII is fixed, adjoining the Pettah Road and to the south west of the entrance to the Residency Park which is almost opposite the south-west end of the Public Offices.

XIII. From new boundary stone No. XII the line takes a northerly direction parallel with the fence of the Residency compound along the Pettah Road up to the stone pillar at which the wire fence of the Cubbon Park begins almost due south of the Post Office where boundary stone No. XIII is placed.

XIV. The station boundary line then proceeds along the Cubbon Park wire fence to the angle in the fence immediately opposite Her Majesty's Post Office and thence follows the Park fence to St. Mark's Church or West Parade Road, at which point boundary stone No. XIV is fixed. Point G on Revenue Survey Sheet I.

XV. From stone No. XIV the boundary still keeping to the Cubbon Park fence runs along St. Mark's Church Road, and curving round line of the fence at Cubbon Park Police Station, point H on Revenue Survey Sheet I, runs down Sidney Road, and along front of the Museum to the Cross Roads whence the causeway across Sampangi Tank takes off. The change of direction which here occurs is marked by boundary stone No. XV. Point I, Revenue Survey Sheet I. From this point the boundary runs along the western edge of the Sampangi causeway until it falls into the Sampangi Tank bund, boundary stone No. XVI being fixed at this point of intersection. Point J, Revenue Survey Sheet I.

XVI. Leaving boundary stone No. XVI, the line follows the curve of the compound wall of Revenue Survey Office and the road-side walls of Colonel Beresford's house until it reaches the corner of Lal-Bagh Road immediately opposite the gate of Longford House, which point is marked by boundary stone No. XVII Point K, Revenue Survey Sheet I.

XVII. Passing down Lal-Bagh Road along the compound hedges of the adjoining houses the line crosses the road near the porch of Sonnaiya and Co's flower garden, at which point boundary stone No. XVIII is fixed, point L, Revenue Survey Sheet I, and runs due south along the hedge and ditch bordering the tope and gardens which here extend from Lal-Bagh Road down to the bed of Sunnakal Tank, at the end of this reach a re-entering angle is formed by the boundary, coinciding with the boundaries of the Survey numbers, and the corners are marked on the ground by boundary stones Nos. XIX, XX and XXI.

XVIII. From stone XXI the line runs due east along the northern wetted border of Sunnakal Tank, adhering to the garden boundaries as marked on ground by the earthen Survey "Bans," in other words along the southern village boundary of Hakkitimmanhalli. After passing between the south-western corner of the Cantonment cemetery and the northern end of the Sunnakal Tank bund it curves round south for a short distance so as still to follow the field boundaries of Hakkitimmanahalli until it crosses the Anekal District Road not far from where the latter takes off from the High Road to Oossoor.

XIX. From the Anekal Road the line continues due east and crossing the Oossoor Road keeps to the boundary between the villages of Hakkitimmanahalli and Koramangal until it falls into the bed of Koramangal Tank. The angle near the cemetery and end of Sunnakal Tank bund is marked on the ground by boundary stone No. XXII, the points where the Anekal and Oossoor Roads are crossed by stones Nos. XXIII and XXIV, and the point where the line on falling into Koramangal Tank changes direction to the north-east by boundary stone No. XXV.

XX. From stone XXV, the station boundary line skirts the edge of Koramangal Tank, and crossing the Nilasandra Road close by the Commissariat Slaughter House follows the field boundaraies of Sonnenahalli village till it meets the road running along the side of the Artillery Practice Ground. The point of crossing the road at Slaughter House is marked on ground by boundary stone No. XXVI, and the point on side of road by the Artillery Practice Ground by boundary stone No. XXVII.

XXI. Thence the station boundary simply skirts the southern slopes of the Artillery Practice Ground, following the lines of stone posts which demarcate the range, until on its eastern side the point is reached where the boundaries of the villages of Chellagatta and Domlur meet. This is point O on Revenue Survey Sheet 2, and is marked on ground by boundary stone No. XXX, the southern angles of the practice ground being shown by boundary stones Nos. XXVIII and XXIX.

XXII. From point O, boundary stone XXX, the station boundary line bears away north-east above the bed of Chellagatta Tank, and then, at a point marked by boundary stone No. XXXI near the Vartur District Road, it turns north and follows from "Ban" to "Ban" the eastern field boundaries of Domlur and Dukanhalli villages at the north-eastern angle of the village boundaries of Dukanhalli, marked on ground by boundary stone No. XXXII, the station line turns east along the Dukanhalli northern boundary, and then leaving the hamlet of Abbareddipalyam on the left, runs into the village boundary of Binnamangal at point marked by boundary stone No. XXXIII.

XXIII. The southern and eastern village boundaries of Binnamangal are then followed nntil the line after passing close by the village tank falls into the Hoskote High Road nearly opposite to Army Signalling Station No. 5, at which point boundary stone No XXXIV is fixed.

XXIV. From stone XXXIV the station line runs up the Hoskote Road for a short distance to the Survey "Ban," at side of road, from which mark it again runs due north across the fields until the north-eastern angle of the village boundaries of Binnamangal is reached, where boundary stone No. XXXV is fixed.

XXV. Thence the station boundary bears west down the trough of the valley, crosses the low ground immediately above Binnamangal Tank and runs up the slope to the Sapper Parade Ground, on edge of which boundary stone No. XXXVI is placed, point P on Revenue Sheet No. 2. Running then north along the Sapper Parade Ground to the corner marked on the ground by boundary stone No. XXXVII, it turns again west along the Parade Ground until it reaches the Dodkunte south-eastern limits. This point is marked on ground by boundary stone No. XXXVIII.

XXVI. The station line then follows the village boundary north along the walls of the St. John's Hill Christian Cemeteries, Survey blocks 677 and 676, up to the point where it is intersected by the Madras Railway, outside the northern fence of which boundary stone No. XXXIX is fixed.

XXVII. From this last point the station line follows the eastern village boundary of Dodkunte until it closes on the starting point boundary stone No. I.

XXVIII. From the above description it will be seen that the Bangalore Civil and Military Station includes within its limits the villages of Dodkunte, Byadarhalli, part of Upparhalli, part of Sampangihalli, Hakkitimmanahalli, Nilsandra, Sonnenhalli, Domlur, Dukanhalli, and Binnamangal, within which lie the villages of Bilkihalli, Shule, Kupsandra, Alsur and the various bazars, barracks, parade grounds, station cemeteries, &c.

XXIX. The stones which mark the limits and are enumerated above are square in section and stand 2 feet from the ground, the top being chiselled off to a wedge as per marginal sketch. On the face of which are countersunk the number in Roman characters and the letters "S. B." (Station Boundary.)
